“ Peggy and I have been friends for many years. I first met Peggy when she and her son, Craig, visited Dayspring Baptist Church. Peggy got a ride home from church with me as we both lived in North Augusta, and that began our friendship. Eventually, Peggy joined my ladies' Sunday morning Bible class. Peggy and I shared many conversations about our faith in Christ, observations and questions about things we learned in Bible study. We shared prayer requests and when I felt called to missions in Honduras, Peggy was one of my most faithful supporters. She prayed for me and the ministry at Destino del Reino and faithfully wrote letters so I would have news from home in my post office box. We got together every summer and Christmas during the school vacations. Since her birthday was in July, we used to go out to eat at her favorite restaurant (O'Charlie's) with one or two of the other ladies from our Bible study group. I knew when I saw Peggy this past Christmas that she was failing fast. She will be missed as she was dearly loved, but I am thankful she is finally free from pain and reunited with her husband and two sons who have gone before her into the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ.
