“ There was never a time in all the years of Brandon coming into my home that laughter did not come with him. He was always willing to help and continually proved himself a hard worker. He was a good friend to my son and always a welcome guest at my table. There are no words to express the loss that we all feel..the love that we all felt..the memories that we all hold dear. God hold his family near..my prayers for peace are daily. Ms. Joni

“ The death of a child is one of the hardest things that a person has to endure. The Bible gives many examples of those who were asleep in death being resurrected. Many accounts were those of children (Luke 7:11-17, Luke 8:40-56). What joy is described in these passages. We will experience that same joy when the promise at John 5:28,29 is fulfilled...."all those in the memorial tomb will hear Jesus' voice and come out." May you find comfort in these words and the fond memories of Brandon.
