Uncle Carl, you have been around us for most of my life. We are going to miss you in the holidays. I know you have not been able to get around lately, and I know you were in pain. You are out of pain now and with your Mother and Daddy. A lot of fond memories that we have a lifetime to share. Mom, your twin is going to be lost without you. We will protect her just the way you did.

Thank you, Don told me how close you were at USC Aiken. He spoke at the times you helped him overcome a few obstacles during that time. He was such a beautiful person inside and out. Thank you for watching over him. Sandy Ward “ Uncle Caw, as everyone referred to him, lived with us off and on as we were growing up. My mother is his twin sister, Carol. He was there to take care of us while my mother was away working. He made sure we had everything we needed. I cooked a BIG meal for him everyday, as most know he loved to eat. My sister Beth and I were a hand full in middle school and only burnt the kitchen up twice. Uncle Caw slept right through both time and only woke up to the sound of fire trucks and firemen readying their equipment inside the house. Thank goodness he survived with me and Beth in that kitchen. It wasn't long after the last fire that an apartment was built in our backyard for him to live in.
