“ Cindy was one of the strongest person I have ever known. She fought such a hard fight. I will always remember the advice she has given me in living with chronic pain. I will sure miss that understanding ear. I am so glad I had gotten to know her, just wish there had been more time. But she is in such a better place, no more sorrow, no more pain. I will see you again my friend. Thank you and RIP Cindy.

“ Mama, Where do I began to say Goodbye.. I love you with all my heart and I know u will be watching over all of us..I will treasure the advice and talks we had.. I will miss being able to pick up that phone and call u a hundred times a day wether it was for something little or just to see what u are doing. I will take care of Daddy you know how he is. Your fur babies will be well taken care of that I promise.. Little Austin and Hailey want you to know that they love you and they will never forget you! I know this was not supposed to happen this was not our plan.. But I guess God needed you more than us at least that is what I try to tell myself..So I am not saying goodbye I will see ya later until we meet again. I promise I will remind myself what u told me just weeks before "If u find yourself in a fix ask yourself what would Mama do!" Love always my precious longtime friend, I will miss you every day, our late night talks, the way you laughed, the wonderful memories that I have of you and the fun/crazy things we did! soooo much fun! and now you have moved on without me, to another, better place, with no pain, with family and friends ... I will see you again my friend and we will laugh again. losing you has left us all so sad but last night Kathy and I were talking about you and we were laughing about some of the things that we did, and our conversation went from tears to laughter - you were a good friend to have - I will miss you.... And to you Kenneth and Kari and Kristi, to the grandchildren, you have not lost your loved one, we know where she is and we will all be with her again. My condolences to you AND to my friend Cindy, I love you girl <3
