SO

It's been 10 years now SFO! Cant believe I've lived 10 years after you were gone, but rest assure... You live on in me and through me every day. I will pass on the knowledge you gave me and I will tell the stories of the dungeon and eating steel croutons with our steel steaks and steel salad. That's all an inside joke that only you will understand and maybe 2 others. You're still the chief and I'm still your pet gorilla that you were so proud of. Until I see you again, don't feel or touch the TV because I KNOW you ain't watching it. I will say that I pull for Clemson now (unless they playing UGA) and I never would've thought that... To the best uncle and friend anyone could ask for, know that you changed my life and we'll pick up right where you left off. Legends never die... they just move on. I'll see you again Billy the Kid.

“ Dear Janice Bobby Travis Amy & other family members

I haven't seen Billy in Quite some time but I remember him dearly from when I attended church with him @ Victory. He would always come in so happy & friendly to everyone. I was always amazed at his happiness & always so joyful & praising I eventually left Victory & had the oppertunity to meet his sister Janice. She like Billy is always a blessing to so many of us in Sunday School & Church at Immanuel. It wasn't but a few months ago Bobby & I were talking about the whole family the kids the nieces & nephews his other sisters and his parents. This whole family was amazing and truly blessed by our God above. I hope the Lord gives you all peace & comfort during this time. I know all of you are a very loving family & Billy would want y'all to be happy and carry on and stay close to each other & God. God always has a plan. In this time of sorrow & grief remember what Billy would want & his smile & loving ways to everyone. It came a great shock to me also but remember he is in a better place now & it tells us in the Bible to rejoice when one leaves this earth & goes on to heaven where he will feel no pain no sorrow. I love this whole family & even though I don't know you all I know the ones I did know & do still know will know to look to God for peace comfort & know Billy is in a better place. I know they will help in giving all the family comfort as I know they know God. Billy will truly be missed. My thoughts & prayers go out to the whole family and may God give you comfort & peace during this time.

Love in Christ

“ I regret not being able to make Clemson Billy's funeral. I was a customer and friend of his for almost 40 years. Nobody gave a better massage. It was amazing all that Billy accomplished though being blind. And he did root big time for Clemson. I shall miss Billy. Sincerest condolences to all members of the Fowler family.
