“ Nana, missing you today. I remember when we were kids and the holidays were such a big deal. All the Roberts and all the Anderson's coming together at either your house or Bestamore's house. You and Grandpa and Bestamore and Grandpa may have been set in your ways, but you were good to us. You believed in family. A long lost art. Maybe this is unchristian or childish, but I pray you are in peace with Grandpa and Charlie.
