“ I have gotten to know Mrs. Nora over the last 10 years and she was such a joy. I never stopped by that she did not want to cook something for me to carry with me. Even when her eyesight was so bad, she insisted she could see well enough to cook one of delicious dishes. She was a dear soul and I will miss seeing her.

Some special memories I have are of her delicious Persian food and her traditional South Carolina New Years dinner of black eyed peas and collard greens. Nancy Kappus Schear

“ I send my condolences and prayers to your family. Noora was such a kind and loving soul. I will miss her calls and wonderful stories about the early history of the Baha’i Faith in Iran. My heart is cheered that she is now free from the many sorrows of this life and is freely roaming in the presence of her Lord. “Know thou, of a truth, that if the soul of man hath walked in the ways of God, it will, assuredly, return and be gathered to the glory of the Beloved.”

Fatimih Noora's life in this world was devoted to serving humankind. Among her outstanding attributes was uprightness. She had a firm foundation in virtues, and never lost sight of what a kindly tongue could do. She was an affectionate cousin, her heart was made of gold unalloyed. May her illumined soul rest in peace and reap rich spiritual rewards throughout the worlds of God! My deep condolences to her two precious daughters and to her siblings and their families.
