“ Dear Martin,

I am so sorry about your Mom. i know that she will be greatly missed. It still feel funny that my Mom and Dad are not around anymore. The hardest thing I've ever had to do was to empty their house for someone else to move into. It was awful, but now, my youngestdaughter and her husband were able to buy it from other individuals and that is somewhat comforting. I want you to know that my sincere sympathy is with you at this time.

“ My grandmother was a remarkably kind and generous woman whose faith and love showed in every aspect of her life. She had the tremendous good fortune to meet and marry one of the kindest souls I have ever had the pleasure of knowing, and whom I have been lucky to call my grandfather since I was a very little girl. He brought her so much happiness and their unwavering care and devotion to each other was truly inspiring. My grandmother lived a wonderful, long life full of dignity and poise. She very much loved her family and her friends and we in turn loved her tremendously. She will be dearly missed, but she will never be forgotten.##imported-begin##Julie Kirby##imported-end##
