“ I haven't seen Woody since his health really started downhill but we are all happy that part of his life is now over and his spirit is free from pain. May Diane and his children and grandchildren all be blessed for their goodness in taking care of him. I last saw him about 6 years ago and in the preceding 50 years I enjoyed visiting with him every time I returned home to Augusta. We all loved Woody and delighted in his fishing stories and all his outdoor adventures. He was a fine example of service to everyone.

“ Diane and family I was so sad to see the passing of Woody! We loved his visits and learned from his wisdom. We thought he was a kind and an amazing man. I know he had a great home coming!

“ We shared a childhood together, growing up just outside of town, where woods and hills were one way, and the other was a walk into town. We had a camp (cabin) on a pond (lake) with no electricity only 20 miles from home, so we went there almost every weekend, fishing and swimming or exploring the woods (forest). We were 5 years apart in our ages, a distance that continued geographically for the rest of our lives---me in the Midwest and Noopie (a childhood name), in the South. We communicated sporadically, but knew little about each other's lives. In the last few years, he called me on my birthday and I did on his. In between, we would call Once-in-a-while and chat. We will all miss him and I extend my sincere condolences to his family.
