“ Lynne, and Family

I was so sorry to hear about your Mother. Kay and I know how hard that is. Know matter how much you say you will not be just like her, you will catch yourself doing some things that you swore you wouldn't do that are just as she would have done. She will be in your thoughts everyday. Though I haven't seen her in a long time, I have fond memories of her and how much she and Moma were alike, She was always dressed to perfection. Her house in order and clean as a pen. Soft spoken and had a beautiful smile. May God Bless you and your family durning this time and in the days to come.##imported-begin##Anne Langford##imported-end##

“ To the Family:

I knew Frances many years ago when we both worked for Georgia Pacific. I always liked her and thought so much of her. She was a very sweet person & I remember her with many warm memories. I'm so sorry for your loss & pray God will keep you all in His loving care. Just call upon Him.

I lost my husband this past July & truly know it is a very trying time to go through a death of a loved one, but take it one day at a time & the Good Lord will see you through. Keep her memories in your hearts til you meet again.##imported-begin##Carolyn Rogers##imported-end##

“ Dear Arrington Family, I would like to extend my sincere condolences to each of you. Although we are not acquainted personally, however, we universally share the pain of losing a loved one in death. It seems so unfair that death should have the power to take away our loved ones. And when it happens, the thought of never again being able to talk to, laugh with, or hold our loved ones can be most difficult to bear. A key to enduring your loss is knowing that the Bible teaches that "there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous" (Acts 24:15), our loved ones sleeping in the graves will come forth and have the opportunity to live forever under peaceful conditions right here on earth. (John 5:28,29; Rev. 21:3,4; Psalm 83:18) While grief at the loss of Frances is great, joy at receiving Frances in the resurrection will be greater. (Mark 5:42) Please read and find peace in God's loving promises during this difficult time and the days to come. Take care,##imported-begin##valerie thompson##imported-end##
