“ I was fortunate to have Ian call me "Aunt Barbara". I loved his teenage years when he and Todd would come to spend time with our family in Tuckerton, NJ. His younger cousins adored him! When they all got to be adults, still the same ... "The Cousin Group". Ian has helped me online and I enjoyed connecting on FB with him. Our last phone conversation in the Fall was very emotional, but I am at peace because I know he is with the Lord and in no more pain or suffering. God bless his family ... what a true testament of love shown in the way they cared for him for so long.

It was difficult to see through the tears, but this was the most beautiful tribute to Ian....one that I will never forget. I could feel Ian's presence and that of Our Heavenly Father who carried Ian through his journey, Todd, you were incredible.....bringing Ian to life for all of us. I learned so much about him and saw a beautiful soul. You are indeed an amazing family. Thank you! .

“ Ian was so smart and funny, patient and kind. I have known him since he was a young boy in New Jersey, long before he became a computer-wiz. I could call him when I had a computer problem or one, I had created myself, and he would literally stay on the telephone with me for hours if needed, until it was resolved. I will miss being called Sharron when he always picked up the telephone. He was truly a unique person.

My heart is with his family in their time of sorrow. May they find comfort in knowing that someone so special will never be forgotten.

“ I was an art teacher in Marlboro Elementary School for 36 years. I was fortunate enough to have Ian as a student(also remembering Todd). I contacted Ian through Facebook about 5 years ago. Last year I was hacked and deleted on Facebook, and was negligent in reclaiming some friends that I lost. Therefore, I did not know what was going on with Ian. I'm truly saddened to hear of his passing, much too young to leave our world. I guess I'll always remember Ian as that sweet, blonde, handsome boy that looked like sunshine!

Ian was an awesome Uncle to his nephews. Always making sure there was a gift for all holidays. He loved seeing the boys either online or in person.

“ I met Ian when I moved to Marlboro in the late '80s. We had many great times together and spent many nights at the Jersey shore, pool halls, coffee shops in Red Bank, or just hanging at home. I loved him for his kindness, generosity, curiosity, and ability to listen and offer honest advice. I was fortunate enough to keep in touch with Ian throughout the years. He assisted me whenever I needed IT support and was never bothered by a random call at any time of day. He was just a true friend and always willing to help out. I'm glad to have known him in this life. Love you, Ian. Rest now.

“ Ian and Todd were my first friends when I moved to Marlboro over 35 years ago. We lived on the same block a couple of houses away. Ian and I spent our time skateboarding, listening to music, hanging out in Red Bank, and going to the Cue and Brew. We even built a skate ramp in the woods behind our houses. I'll also never forget going to Scranton, PA for Lollapalooza '92 in the back of Ian's pick-up truck.

Rest In Peace, brother!
