“ *Birth is a beginning
and death a destination
And life is a journey:
From childhood to maturity
and youth to age;
From innocence to awareness and ignorance to knowing;
From foolishness to desecration and then perhaps to wisdom.
From weakness to strength or from strength to weakness and often back again;
From health to sickness and we pray to health again.
From offense to forgiveness from loneliness to love from joy to gratitude from pain to compassion from grief to understanding from fear to faith.
From defeat to defeat to defeat until looking backwards or ahead
We see that victory lies not at some high point along the way but in having made the journey step by step
a sacred pilgrimage.
Birth is a beginning
and death a destination
And life is a journey;
A sacred journey to life everlasting*

“ We know of an extraordinary compassionate man
Who lives and believes in doing all that he can.
He taught the three of us to play the game of golf
And used us as caddies as he would shoot under par
For we know others who have met him will concur
We are honored to know this man as our father.
He is strong yet gentle with an impressible drive
In him we find virtues for which we strive.
He has fought battles and at times had to make a sacrifice
Of which I know he would never think twice.
He carries a spirit within him that cannot be ignored
This spirit from heaven God's precious reward.
He maintains with wondrous art
Perpetual love and kindness in his heart.
Like the oysters that beautify and protect the pearls,
He enriches and preserves the lives of his oldest girls.
And in looking back on all the years of our lives
He has always expressed love to our mother, his loving wife.
And now he has gone on to join our mother
And with that there is nothing more to add Because all the love he's shared makes us very glad.
So the greatest man that we have ever known
Is the father we are proud to call our own.

We will miss you, love you and thank you for being you!
