“ Kelly was a smart, loving and beautiful soul. She was a doting and loyal best friend to my daughter and their circle. We are shattered that she has left this world. I will miss Kelly's smile and the way she'd sometimes laugh so hard an adorable snort would escape causing everyone around her to erupt into cackles. Most kids these days are so big on modern technology that you really don't see many handwritten cards/letters written amongst them anymore. My daughter's room is filled with the sweetest and funniest handwritten notes from Kelly. Her drawings and sketches brighten my kiddo's room. She was just different in that way. She really loved with all her heart and wasn't afraid to let the people she loved know how much she cared about them. I am so grateful for the love and friendship she gave so freely to our Grace and even Grace's little brother Sebastian. My heart is with Esther and Amy. I cannot imagine the pain that they are enduring right now. I hope everyone's words are able to bring some measure of comfort and I pray God's love is wrapped around them tightly.

“ Kelly was such a beautiful soul and truly didn't deserve the troubles she was going through. She would always comment such nice stuff on my posts even when we weren't as close! She also helped me a lot when I was struggling in calculus. There's also not a lot of people out there that care for the planet as much as she did! <3 Planting a tree in your name Kelly. Rest peacefully.

“ I just learned of Kelly's passing and I am so devastated for your loss. I had Kelly in my class and she was such a joy to teach and to be around. She was a funny, sincere, smart young woman and I can't believe she is gone. I am just so very sorry and sad.

“ kelly was the first friend i made in high school. i remember on my first night of band camp, she came up to me and made me feel so welcomed. she would provide me with rides so i didn't have to walk from the field to the school. she was always such a genuine friend and always there for me. she was such a pure soul who i could always be myself around. her love for all living things was so beautiful, she was just so beautiful. i'm very glad i had her in my life.

“ My name is Vivienne Loose. I didn't know Kelly very well, but when she was around she would light up the room. Kelly was in ninth grade when I first came to Paul Knox. She taught me how to play the clarinet. She was so welcoming and AMAZING at everything. My mom ended up teaching her ninth grade English and my mom would always come home and talk about how amazing she was. I remember the first time I went to Region Band, and Kelly was there shining her light. She was 1st or 2nd chair in All State in 9th grade!! I remember hearing her play, and I thought I need to be like her. She is definitely one of the people I look up to! I miss her so much and I know she had an impact on the world.

“ Kelly was such a joy to have in my Honors English class during her 9th grade year. While she was an excellent student and writer, she was also a wonderful example of kindness, compassion, and empathy. She recognized when her classmates or her teacher were not having the sunniest of days, and she would quietly take the time to respond to that in her own special way. Kelly was a true light to others, a fond blessing to all! Her life made a difference, and I thank you for allowing us to be blessed by her gifts.

“ Our family is truly saddened by your loss. A loss a parent should never have to endure. Keep close to God and your faith. Know your surrounded by friends if you ever need anything. I’m glad we became friends and our kids became friends during their high school days. She was a very beautiful person and soul and I’m glad Kelly and Caleb got to enjoy Junior prom together even if it did rain that night. He has fond memories of her and those days and will never be forgotten. Hope nothing but good memories see you through the days ahead. Love you ❤️ Praying for you and Amy. 🙏

“ i met kelly last year when erin introduced me to another clarinet. she was so excited to meet a new na clarinet. from that night on, she had me hooked. she taught me everything to get used to marching. she helped correct me when i made mistakes. she spent time with me to welcome me and after she became my friend, kelly was there for me when i needed her. she was so smiley, quick to raise her hand in class, goofy, and an overall joy to be around. i loved spending last year with her. i looked up to her and so did the rest of my section. and i know that i only had a year and a marching season with her, but that’s enough to make an impact on me. i will continue to miss her so very much. thanks for being so sweet to me when i was a nervous upcoming freshman and thanks for being a friend and for the memories. i’ll hold onto your note and words from state. i love you forever, kellybean and i know everyone in our section does too.

“ I met Kelly sophomore year in Mr.Lagrone’s English class. She helped make that class one of the most memorable throughout high school. She was a bright light that was always shining no matter what. I will miss her beautiful smile and extremely contagious laugh. She was just one of those genuine people you meet every now and then, she cared for everyone she met. My condolences to all she left behind.

“ I met Kelly last year in my Anatomy class and quickly realized she was a bold and passionate girl. She was outspoken and was never afraid to voice her opinion or ask a question in class. I then again took AP Biology with her first period this past year. She sat right in front of me. She came in every day with a new story to tell or something to share about her past day working at Tropical Smoothie. While she said that job was stressful and full of chaos, she always laughed it off and continued to find a funny memory to make the best out of her bad days. Kelly had such a radiant heart and a colorful soul and I know I, and so many others, will miss her dearly. ❤️

“ While I didn't truly know you, I met you at a band competition at NAHS. You walked our band out to the field and we talked the whole time. There was such a light around you and from then on every time I'd see you at conferences we would always wave. You never knew it, but you had an impact on my life even if it was from afar. You told me just to give it my best and to relax. This year when we go onto that field at NAHS again, know I'm taking a part of you with me❤️

“ I met Kelly and her family at Sunday school during the middle school years. She would always pop her hand up to answer questions about the bible story and find a way to make the whole class laugh and smile. I then went to high school with Kelly and every time I saw her she always smiled to everyone and waved. She was such a pure and kind soul. Prayers and thoughts to the family. 💕

“ I met Kelly in high school. We bonded easily over a shared love of literature and art. She was as beautiful on the inside as she was on the out. Kelly never had anything cruel to say about anyone. She was creative and witty and hilarious and so so smart. She saw the world the way poets do. A truly radiant soul gone too soon. She will never be forgotten, and she will be dearly missed. You were in so much pain yet you kept getting up every single day regardless of what was thrown at you, even when things got really rough. I will always admire you for your strength. You were incredibly smart and you had one of the most gorgeous smiles I've ever seen. Your laugh was infectious and it never failed to make me crack a smile any time I heard it.
