“ John Lindsay Crook lit a candle in memory of Leonard Mark Steed

“ I've been a customer of Mark's for about ten years. One of the saddest parts of his passing, for me, is that much of his wisdom and experience go with him. He was so knowledgeable about plants and kindly advised me through several important decisions in my garden. I remember one area I was struggling with: Mark took one look at it, told me what to plant there, and these many years later, those plants bloom happily for me. They will now always be a reminder of a gardening friend and a sharp businessman. I will miss Mark and will be thinking of him often when I'm in my garden. Today, his little cemetery was perhaps the prettiest place in South Carolina. Old mature conifers and loads of crepe myrtles surrounded the Steed family plot, all under a cloudless February sky. It is a fitting place for Mark.

“ *Mr. Junior, Mrs. Margaret, Kim and girls;
So sad to hear this news, so my thoughts and prayers go out to you all. I will always remember two of Mark’s passions; golf and landscaping. I hope in heaven he is seeing the most beautiful landscapes which we cannot imagine. God shelter you all in his arms and we look forward to seeing Mark again!*
