“ I am so blessed that I had the chance to have dad in my life for the past two years! He has been the best father-in-law and friend I could have ever dreamed of having. I have never experienced so much love from one person! He treated me as his own and he was much more than your average father-in-law, he was a dad, a friend, and a wonderful role model for the Lord. Last year he helped get me back on track and guide me to the closest walk with Christ i've ever experienced and he helped encourage me to do things inside the church I thought I could never do. Anytime I didn't understand, needed guidance, had a thought, or wanted to share a blessing he was there to listen and help. I will forever be grateful to him for that! He was my church buddy, book store buddy, eating buddy, every weekend we were at the flea market, the mall, or somewhere hanging out...weekdays too. Starting life over without him will be so hard! But one thing that helps is knowing that even though i'm hurting, he's not. And he is so happy! And all I really want is for him to have the kind of happiness he gave me and he does, he has so much more! He couldn't have been a better pappy, and the girls love him so much! They really had a very special relationship with him! He told me he was proud to have me as a Haworth, and even more, i'm blessed that I am one and that I had the chance to have him in my life and be part of this wonderful, strong family! Were going to make it through this, I love yall. Dad, you will be forever loved and missed! The girls and JR (Lil Joe) will always be reminded of you, I promise!###imported-begin##April Haworth###imported-end##

“ I have known Lindon for many years. Throughout those years, Lindon has always strived for perfection, to be the very best at everything. From serving the Lord to serving the citizens of our Country and Richmond County. My father was a Seabee - serving in MCB5. Lindon was a Seabee - serving in MCB14. We had that in common. I have a picture of the two of us wearing our "Seabee" shirts, just prior to his leaving for Iraq. While working together, we were always together. Our co-workers nicknamed us "trigger" and "Roy". Lindon was ALWAYS there to help me and his fellow co-workers. He was a very hard working man. He loved his children, all of them. Erica - he was so proud of you. Matt - He was so proud of you too. Your service in the Navy mean't everything to him. Joe - he was proud of his grandchildren, especially happy that his first was named after Paula. Lindon, you were always giving. Now you have gone from an angel here on earth to an angel in heaven. I will miss you dearly my friend. Your pal, Trigger###imported-begin###Taryl Elim###imported-end###

“ It always breaks my heart when I hear of a fallen comrade, active or inactive in law enforcement. Especially someone I worked with. Oh how very sad this is. May God give peace to the ones which have been left behind to grieve. Lindon was a great guy.

“ I met Lindon by divine appointment from God less than two months ago. He was preparing for a worldly trial. God told me to let Lindon know that justice will prevail in his favor. As a witness for Christ, God had me sit with Lindon and his family and friends daily. When God speaks, his word never fails if we only believe. God placed me in Lindon's life as a prayer warrior and we both were witnesses for Christ. We prayed together and he and his attorney were able to share some heartfelt stories about his service to our country while in Iraq. Lindon was wounded in Iraq and he had the WORD OF GOD IN HIS POCKET. The word of God sheilded a round that was sent straight to his heart. He has a shadow box with the bible in it. You can see where the bullets pierced through the bible. They did not reach his heart. That WORD was powerful in Lindon and he was saved. He had compassion for God's people. Now he does not have any pain, hurt, bills, or other worldly cares. God has given Lindon his ultimate healing. To the family and friends, continue to live the legacy of Lindon. I am so glad that God allowed me to meet Lindon and his family. They will never be forgotten. Lindon has now taken off the corruptible and put on the incorruptible CROWN OF GLORY. He was a true soldier for Christ after God heart just like David. Lindon knew how to love and pray for his enemies ,always forgiving. Rest in peace Lindon. May God raise more soldiers just like you on the battlefield for Christ as he gives your family and friends strength, power and courage to endure.##imported-begin##Christine Joyce Ann Green##imported-end##
