“ these words are for my dear friend I lost. I still am not able to express my feelings. When I went to see her on Saturday like always, no one opened the door and she did not answer my phone. I returned home tired and disappointed, but I did not calm down. I sent my friend to her house to find her again. This time unfortunately, she did not open the door, and she went to her neighbor's house and he said that Maria is no longer with us. Dear Maria, I do not know why you spent your last moments without saying goodbye to me and left. you return home, I leave you in God's hand my dear. I will not go to that house anymore because no one is waiting for me. I love you my constant friend.
