Beth was roommate many years ago in Tulsa, OK. She has been on my heart for many years now and in my prayers. I am so saddened to hear of your loss. The joys and memories are many that I cherish. I have photos from those days if you would like any of them. I know she is at peace at the feet of Jesus and also so happy to see her son Jeremy. Sending my condolences and love to the family. God Bless You all!

“ *To "Destiny's" family
I don't know how to say how sorry I am about Beth. I didn't know her extremely well like some other people from the 50's room. But what I did know I loved, she will be missed by many people. However she is at peace and very happy with the Lord, because she was an angel before and now is for sure!!! My prayers go out to you all.##imported-begin##Karen##imported-end##*

“ DeeAnna, Nancy, Miss Ethel, I am still quite numb from the shock of this. Beth IS the most humble, sweet, caring, empathetic, compassionate, loving person I have met in a very, very, very long time. A few weeks ago she sang, with the blessed voice of an angel, a most sweet hymn to me. She said the Lord had put it on her heart to do so. What a voice she had. That night, for the first time in more years than I can count, I slept through the night. She left such a warmth and spiritual presence in my home. I have absolutely NO uncertainty regarding her afterlife wheareabouts; Mary Elizabeth went home to Glory. I want to extend my prayers and sympathy to her family, especially DeeAnna. Oh, how your mother loved and treasured you. Like someone encouraged you in another note, Let Heavenly Father bear you up. Fall into His loving arms whenever you feel the need. He is waiting and ready. This encouragement also goes to Nancy, Miss Ethel and all of Beth's family and friends. Contrary to how terrible it feels now, Earth truly has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal. Call me if I can do ANYTHING.##imported-begin##Karen Williams-Cooper##imported-end##

“ Dear Beth's family i want to send you my deepest sympathy and warmest regards. Destiny was one of the most deepest honest and truly care person i have met online. i truly enjoyed my talks with her in the chat room and loved her sense of humor. her and my private talks were what warmed my heart. she truly cared and was there to lend a ear and to share her pain as she was as she said* able to be invisible on the net* and let out what she felt. She sent me many get well soon messages after an accident almost took my life and i looked forward to hearing from her. I love her deeply! please know she is shining with her beloved son and our Lord in Heaven. My the love and peace of the Lord be with you all. “ With a heavy heart I type this letter your family "Beth". We may of never met in real life but all your friends in the myspace 50's chatroom loved you dearly. You brought a sense of elegency to a somewhat goofy place. Your humor was beyond hilarious. You held your self as a proper mother and spoke of your loving family often. I know our loss is great but theirs is far greater without a doubt. I am sure gonna miss you as I know alot of others do. I wish you the best my friend no more pain. To your family my deepest regrets to each and everyone of you had a fine mother and sister and daughter. Which I know you know that. But, she had friends around the world that she touched in many ways! God sure does have a top notch angel at his side! My prayers are with you!

Sincerely;

One of Beth's friends from myspace!
