“ *Amy and Wayne,
I am writing in memory of my mom, Sharon Stefanko, who was a nurse from PSA that cared for Paris as a child. I had the privilege of meeting Paris and your family a few times through the years. My mom enjoyed her time caring for your daughter. I am glad that they can be reunited in heaven. My mom will be proud to see what a beautiful young lady she grew into.*

“ Paris was one thoughtful and sweet young lady. I live in a retirement home and I had never met her and when she was about 7 years old her grandmother brought she and Maddie to see me. On the way she suggested they bring me a bouquet of flowers and she just beamed when she presented them to me. She had such a bubbling personality and so caring. I had looked forward to seeing her this Christmas. I will certainly miss her.

“ I remember when I first met Paris at First Baptist North Augusta. I was new to the church and she immediately welcomed me and was the sweetest person I'd met. We went wedding dress shopping for her because it was on her bucket list and I remember they served us sparkling grape juice instead of wine because we were minors. She was truly one of the sweetest people I've met. It's sad that she's left us behind but I know that she is happy and singing in heaven's choir. We just have to miss her until we can see her again.

“ One of my favorite memories, and the way I have always thought of Paris, is her singing and dancing with her mom in worship in the balcony of First Baptist. How lucky I was to spend every Sunday with such a special, sweet girl and her family. My family is heartbroken, but joyful in the knowledge that Paris is worshipping at the feet of our Lord. We are praying for you all.
