“ I will miss Trish Timmerman. She was a wonderful friend. Not many people are interested in being picked up at 5:00 am to drive 80 miles to put flowers in a show. Not everybody wants to go on garden tours or sit in meetings about flowers.

I am glad that she is not sick anymore. She never complained or whined about her lot in life these past years. She never asked for much, she was an "I will do it myself," kind of girl. She was an inspiration. She loved her family - especially her granddaughters, Samantha and Jamie. She always enjoyed doing things with them and for them. She was pleased to have her daughter Genie and her son-in-law Chris with her during much of her illness.

I will always think of her when Spring comes and my daylilies start to bloom and the white lace flower sown from her seeds are popping up throughout my yard. Her memory will make me bend down and pull just one more weed.....

We did not know Trish very well, but she was special to us, because she raised our very special sister in law, Genie, who we love! She was a great grandmother to our two nieces, who loved going to visit her, and spend time with her. As a career woman, mother, wife and grandmother, Trish did everything well and was well loved. She is now in Heaven with our Lord, hearing " Well done Trish". The words and the place to which we all aspire. Rest In Peace Trish. We will all be reunited with you soon.

Rest in peace, Trish. I always enjoyed our time in the NACGC. and the rose shows we both entered. Thre Buttergly Garden work. I always learned from you, the knowledge you gave freely and your sense of humor. You will be missed.
