“ I called him "Pop" with all the love that existed in my heart. His work truck parked on Greenway Drive was an official blocker for us when we played street football and I never once saw him angry. My heart knows he isn't in pain but my soul aches to see him one more time on the street where us neighborhood kids played in front of his house. I miss both him and ma (Judy Buskirk) more than words will express. Diana they would both be so proud of your strength and character. Paula you were the baby and brought so much excitement and joy when they found out you were coming into this world. I love you both.
