“ Sonya, Peggy and family, I am truly sorry for the loss of Philip. I know it is heartbreaking to you both and to the family. I know that God will give you both and the family the peace and comfort you're going to need going through this and days after. I can't imagine how you're feeling but I do feel for you both. I know the pain I saw my mother go through when my sister left this earth and I know it is a time that we make it angry we may cry and we may yell out but that is part of God's grieving and healing. I know at this time I could say that Philip is in a good place and no pain and I know though that's not going to make you get through this any easier and just remember God is there and he will be there for you and he will help you both and the family get through this at this time and the future. Call me if you need to talk
