“ I had several adult male influences as I grew up in NA. I feel like I turned out to be the person I am because of those powerful male role models. One of those at the top of the list was Mr. Deal. He was one of the most kind and caring people I have ever known. Always had a smile. Always had time for each of us. If we wanted to learn, he was willing to teach. One of the last times I spoke to him, he was still trying to help me solve a problem. Truly a great man that I am sure will be missed by many.

My thoughts and prayers are with all of the family.

“ Mr. Deal was always willing to help. Just one memory: I was trying to install a dryer and when I turned it on I could smell something burning. Called my Dad and he called Raymond (the only one with electrical knowledge and gauges). Mr. Deal tested for a second and then looked at me with that concerned dip in his eyebrows: “God loves you, you should be dead.” was what he told me. I had wired ground to live 110. He made me promise not to touch electricity again and to this day I have not! A great man is gone and he will be missed! Nate
