“ I realize how important church is to Mrs. Berry. She loves her LORD, her family, her church and pastor. She has always been such a good sport in all things.

When Chris, Gayle, Ronnie, and Lynn were out of town, I was giving Mrs. Berry a ride to church (Of course it was always such an honor and privilege to do anything for Mrs. Berry because she was so independent. I arrived at Mrs. Berry's door she was laying on the floor with blood all over her face. The back door was locked Mrs. Berry commanded me to pull hard. She said "I could do it because Chris did it a few weeks before". I knew I was not as strong as Chris, but she said I could. I stopped to say a prayer on the third try the door opened. I cleaned her up and told her she needed to go to the clinic, well she needed a second opinion, because she did not want to go. I went to get the neighbors across the street and they agreed, so off we went. We called Mr. Buzzy to go get Mrs. Helen for Sunday school.

When we left the clinic Mrs. Berry told me I had time to go to church. I told her I would stay with her. Guess who won that argument. She promised that she would sit in the chair until I got back. She did I had to call Gayle and tell her what was going on, everything was under control and I did not want them to cut their trip short. Betty Jean drove up when we were backing out of the driveway to get her glasses fixed. The sweet young lady that took Mrs. Berry's glasses treated her so tenderly.

I want to thank Chris and Gayle for the opportunities that I had to be with Mrs. Berry.

I thank GOD for answered prayers and how he was and is always there for us.

I pray that the family will be comforted by HIS mercy and grace.
