“ I just found out today that Rickey died. This news has made me so sad because I grew up with Rickey and his family. Rickey was always a good friend to me until I lost touch with all of the family except for seeing Brad every now and then.

I also didn't realize that one of his sisters had died. He only had two and it is hard for me to believe that either one of them aren't with us anymore. Pam and I were best friends as children and into early adulthood. Sharon was also a very good friend. I just feel really sad right now.

The only good thing is that I do know that Rickey is with his family now, but the rest of the family and friends here on earth will definitely grieve his passing.

My thoughts and prayers are with all of the family!!!

All of my love,
