I know what that means now. I miss you so much. I wish you were here.###imported-begin##Kaylynn Prough##imported-end##

“ i never thought i could feel so much pain. I agree with what Jessica Baker said, all of us were like a big family and we still are, with robbie in our hearts. Some of the people i saw cry i never have seen them cry before but like i said i have never felt so much pain. i could barely look at him at the visitation, i didn't want to believe it. but i know now that he is in a much better place and i know he would want us to lead a good life and live for God. Robby i love and miss you and i will see you again someday. i will never say good bye i will just say see ya later like i always did because once again i will see you later...##imported-begin##jessica harris##imported-end##

“ For starters, Robby was and still is cared for, and respected because he was such a wonderful person. For all the students at Merriwether Middle, class of 2008, he was a great friend. We were all like a big family. He is missed greatly by everyone who even came in contact with Robby. But while we are grieving because he is missed, we also are happy for him, because he is in a greater place than any one of us can even imagine. God sent Robby here, let him accomplish wonderful things, and wanted him to come home with Him. My prayers are with the families that lost their sons, and also the friends who lost a wonderful friend, like i did. We'll see him again some day though guys, so live life the way GOD would want you to.##imported-begin##Jessica Baker##imported-end##

“ Robby was one of a kind, and no one will ever be able to replace him in my heart. He was a great boyfriend for four months and after that, he was the perfect friend. He listened when I needed to talk (even if he might have be mad at me for some reason) and he gave his advice when I needed it. We had disputes like all relationships and friendships, but I really think that's what held us together. I loved that crazy boy, and it's going to be hard to go one without him.###imported-begin##Lizz Doss###imported-end##

“ I was one of the first people to find out about what happened ... and it still hasn't completely dawned on me what has just happened ... I had known Robby for a few years now ... he made jazz band with Doctor Bradley so much more enjoyable ... and he was the reason I kept it up ... and also the reason I picked up the bass guitar ... I never had the opportunity to tell Robby how much of an impact he had on my life ... even though he was younger than me I looked up to him ... while I was going through hard times he was right there by my side ... and one day when I have kids ... they'll know about my hero ... Robert Edward Kasten ... a kid that was an angel in my life... and even though he was taken away he made such a strong impact on so many people's lives by just being in it ... we are lucky ... if we can change one person's life in our entire life time on this earth ... and he did this ten fold ... thank you for being a part of my life ... I love you Robby ... you will never be forgotten ... and you will always be my hero...##imported-begin##Thomas Bailey##imported-end##

“ I still think I am in disbelief of what happened, but I simply pray God brings you all through this terrible loss. I know He will, but I am truly sorry for this tragedy! I didn't know Robby well, but he was a nice guy and very talented, from the few times I had been around him! I know this time is hard, but remember he will always live on in our hearts and he will always be watching over you, every day! God Bless!

“ Dear Mr. and Mrs. Kasten,
I can only imagine your family's grief at this time. My son Alex and Robbie were partners for their science project, I believe in 8th grade. Robbie visited our home a few times that year, and we had the privilege of meeting you both, as well. Just Sunday afternoon, I was at the store buying some groceries and picked up a bag of "sugar puffs" and with a smile, thought of Robbie as I recalled how he used to really go after those sugar puffs when he visited our home. He and I agreed that sugar puffs was our favorite cereal. Please know that our family is holding you and your family in our thoughts and prayers and grieving with you at the loss of your precious child.
Sincerely,
