“ I worked with Steve and considered him one of my very best friends. He came to the jobsite everyday with a smile on his face.....he was a quite guy, but like others have said, just once and awhile he would come up with something so funny I would laugh until I had tears running down my face!

I have never known anyone with more integrity than Steve. He genuinally cared for the young welders that he worked with, and he cared about the job he was doing, and that it was done right!

Working in construction is not easy, but the people that you meet along the way can make it enjoyable. Steve was one of those people that always made work a better place for me.

There were so many stories he told me about his girls, about Debbie, his Dad, his crazy Uncle, and about his time spent in Vietnam. Stories about going through welding school...and many stories about how hard he tried to make a nice life for his family.

There is not a week that goes by that I don't still miss him.

I wanted his family to know that he brough you to work each day....and loved and thought of you often.

“ I worked with Steve a few years ago in Augusta and what I remember was his sence of humor. We could talk about work or news events and then he would say something in his straight faced way and crack me up. That cup of coffee and a laugh with Steve was a great way to start my day.

“ Pat, Penny, spouses, kids, & grandkids-just wanted to let you know we were thinking of you during this time. I used to sleep in that corner room with the windows open. I listened to Steve play the drums many hours in the evening while I was resting. We'll be praying for each of you as you adjust to life without Steve.
