“ It's been three years, and it still feels like just yesterday when I lost the most influential person in my life. After losing you, I realized how much a person can actually miss someone. It's crazy to think that it has actually been three years since I have gotten to hug you, see you, tell you I love you. I just wish I could hug you and listen to one of your crazy stories again. I love you and I miss you Poppys.

“ I spent almost as much time as a part of this wonderful family as I did a part of my own growing up. My heart broke last night when I heard about Mr. Terry's passing. I feel like I've lost A second father. I know he had to be smiling down from heaven today watching his Tide roll over Washington. Thank you Mr. Terry Stone and your family for always making me a part of your family❤️

“ Terry was my cousin, and left me with some of the sweetest memories of my childhood. A quick trip down the alley, and we'd be in the midst of a full day of inventive play. I pushed him in a clothes hamper until the bottom fell out. We had adventures with a fur coat that most kids never experience! He was the precious son of precious parents.
