What an amazing and beautiful tribute to such a wonderful, loving man. You most definitely had a guardian angel watching over you...now you will be ours.... watching over us. You will be missed more than you know Tommy.

“ Its amazing how you can love someone you've never met! Tommy and Iris came into my life in 2006. We met on a toxic mold website and became forever friends. They were there to help educate me and guide me through toxic tort hell. Even when they both were struggling with their own health and housing issues, they made it a point to become my support system during my battle with cancer. Tommy would always pick up the phone and say "hey darling" with that sweet southern accent of his. He was a good listener and a kind and loving friend to me. When ever he had fatherly words of wisdom or advice to share, he would follow it with a goofy joke just to make me laugh. Then, he would always end our conversation by telling me he loved me! (I was a some strange girl from Detroit he'd never met). I loved opening my mailbox to find CD's of Tommy playing his music. He would send them just to let me know he was thinking of me. He was such a sweet man!

The memory I'd like to share with everyone, about Tommy, has to do with a shirt I sent him one year. It was either a t-shirt or sweat shirt that had Detroit on the front . He would tell me people would always stop and ask if he was from Detroit and tell him he must be a tough guy and quickly walk away from him. He would get such a kick out of that....

Even though never met Tommy in person, I loved him and will miss him dearly.
