“ I'm so sorry I did not know about Bill's death until today (Wednesday afternoon). I worked with Bill for several years. Recently he & I were frequent Sunday diners at Hardees. I really admired him for not giving up. The last time he had a caregiver & a son with him. I'm sure he appreciated you bringing him. My condolence to the family.

“ Sandy, Dair, Johnny and all the rest of the family. My prayers are with you hourly as you begin the celebration of Billy winning the final battle to his home in Heaven. He has defeated death with his hand in the Lords hand as he crossed the last step of his journey. I will never forget the day that he made that committment to God and had his name engraved on his Mansion in Heaven.
The day I lost my daddy was one of the worst days of my life but it sure did make Heaven seem like a much more beautiful place to look forward to. My love to each one of you. Try not to be too sad because it is now the happiest days that Billy has ever imagined.
You can be sure he would not come back. I am so sure that he is just watching and hoping that if there is one in the family that will not meet him there will make the committment of a life time, eternal happiness with the Lord and our families that have gone one before.
I love you very much. Joyce##imported-begin##Joyce Scroggs
